Helping your community can be done in a variety of ways. I'm proud to say that I've been able to support the place where I live and work by not only getting involved with local non-profits, but also through my career in the financial services industry, by helping members achieve their financial goals.

Throughout my career, I've been fortunate enough to touch many areas of the business through a variety of different roles including: Member Service Representative, Financial Services Specialist, Financial Advisor and Administrative Manager to name a few. Being able to see first-hand how all of these facets of the business can impact our members has given me great insight into the best way to support our members.

In addition to holding my Bachelors of Arts Degree from Brock University, I have completed the Canadian Investment Funds course and am working towards my Personal Financial Planner (PFP) designation. Continuing education is something that I am passionate about to ensure that the integrity of the advice I provide is never compromised.

My family and I have lived in Dunnville for over ten years and I believe in giving back to the community that has given me so much. That's why I'm an original member of the 100 Women Who Care Haldimand and also proud to support Habitat for Humanity. If you believe in supporting your local community by banking locally, I invite you connect with me. I'd be thrilled to sit down you to review your financial future.
