

Financial Literacy is one of the greatest gifts that a Financial Advisor can give their member. Not only does it help them understand their own financial decisions, but it also helps strengthen our communities as a whole. This is why I love what I do; being able to educate and work together with members to help direct their financial future.

I have a broad range of experience in the industry ranging from Estate Advisor to Financial Advisor to my current role of Branch Manager. Being able to provide solid and current financial advice comes from a commitment to my own learning. I have completed my Investment Funds in Canada course and I am working towards my Personal Financial Planner (PFP) designation.

Working at PenFinancial Credit Union is a perfect fit for me because their values and commitment to strengthening the community aligns with me as an individual. This is why I'm happy to volunteer with the Out of the Cold Program and also I have supported numerous other charitable organizations such as Canadian Cancer Society and Kids Help Phone.

I love to cook and when I'm not at work, there's nothing I enjoy more than cooking a new meal for my husband and five children (that's not a typo!).
Feel free to give me a call to chat about your financial future.
